If I woke up without being able to name anything, I would worry about this emptiness. Fortunately, the things I have stay there overnight. Everything stayed when I was sleeping. Very quickly, I have to go to breakfast. My ego is disturbed by this. He doesn't like to be disturbed. Ego then creates an things' hole where it is present. His ego's presence, not the thing. Jean KLEIN wonders how he can see emptiness when he is stressed and does not usually see it.
