If we are in an ordered universe, it is because this universe comes from somewhere. Infinite speed created the first God who was then able to create other lives just as he created himself.

God realized with the devil that life he was creating was flawed. So it was necessary to consider something in order not to be bothered by the devil anymore.

Thus God realized that two universes could fusion together, that souls could be hidden in a universe where they would be united in a cohesion and a whole. God only had to germinate his plants binding them to another universe. He had got his soul-testing universe. He could choose who would come with him.
