If the universe is alive, a long time should be necessary to know it. So universe's speed is fast. On the other hand, our speed is slow because we will never be able to reach the end of life of our universe without dying. So there is indeed a soul in another universe that is used to make the universe plant growing, just as there is another universe smaller for our soul.

Space-time's notion always remains valid. If I walk around the universe I add time with this space-time's notion. But we do not know exactly how long it will be earned.
